

A Wide Scope in American Floor Coverings

By Peggy Powers.
The textile room of the Metropolitan Museum of Art is used by the best interior decorators and rug manufacturers who make copies of textile exhibits to aid them in designing domestic productions. The patterns of some of the famous old rugs on exhibition serve as a guide for the new ideas to be incorporated in the manufacture of American-made rugs. A large New York firm had their representatives make sketches of some of the Museum rugs which aided them considerably in reproducing the rugs in the minutest details. Renewed interest for all things Oriental has undoubtedly been the cause of the vogue of the Chinese,

When the cost of the antique rug is prohibitive imitations can easily be secured that need but to be seen to reconcile one to the use of a substitute. There is no more important feature in attaining a well balanced decorative effect than the floor covering. No matter how beautiful the furnishings and hangings may be if the rug is out of harm-

ITEMS TO INTEREST YOU

Don't take our word for it that our prices are low; nor our competitors' word that our prices are high, "See for yourself." These items are meant to interest you to that extent. They are not "special" for Monday or any other particular day, but special every day. The new fall carpets, rugs and draperies are arriving daily and if you contemplate any changes in the home this season we request you before buying to look over our stock and carefully examine our prices. We can please and satisfy you.

Quartered Oak Library Table, $12.60

If you desire a real handsome Table at a medium price here it is, built entirely of quartered oak stock, hand rubbed dull golden oak finish, size of top 26x42, 2 1/2-inch legs, wide lower shelf, one roomy drawer, just as illustrated, a regular $15.00 value.

Leather Rocker, $18.75

Solid comfort leather rocker as illustrated, upholstered in genuine brown Spanish leather over high grade springs, filling consists of elastic felt and moss, plain seat and tufted back, arms are extra wide, deep seat, making a very comfortable and easy rocker.

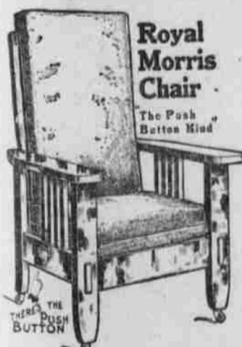

The "Duntley" Suction Cleaner

WORTH $12.00—SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY PRICE $5.95.

Scientifically designed and built to give the best result with the least possible resistance in operation—without sharp edges to injure the nap of the rugs. A few details that count: Brush which adjusts itself to rugs with different naps; Wide dust pans which hold all the dust; Twelve-inch nozzle—gives you a "wide" sweep and it goes into the corners; Cloth dust bag stretched on a metal frame, easily emptied; The suction pulls the dust out of your rugs into the dust-bag—and the Bristle Special Brush picks up lint threads, etc., and deposits them in the dust pans. Your floor coverings are Cleaned all the way through in One Operation. It will pay you to buy now. Only $5.95.

Solid Oak Morris Chair, $12.15

Cushion included

This is a bargain and no mistake. The frame is built of select quartered oak stock, constructed in the same manner as the higher priced chairs. The cushions are filled with elastic felt and are covered with a good grade of velour. Your choice of colors. No rods to bother with, just push the button and the position you desire is acquired.

White Enamel Dresser, $11.75

White enamel Dresser as illustrated, large base, has two large drawers and two small drawers, 20 x 24 French bevel plate mirror, constructed of well seasoned maple, the cabinet work is extra good white enamel egg-shell finish, a remarkable value at the price quoted.

ony and proclaims a discordant note, the room will lose balance. The application of well blended color effects in graceful and practical designs in inexpensive as well as higher priced floor coverings is an encouraging sign of the times.

There is a splendid line of Wilton rugs which create an atmosphere of refinement in the room. These rugs are blended to produce harmonious results and can be had in exact duplicates of foreign rugs, authentic period designs, or plain effects. Orders may be given for special colors or to match any scheme of decoration.

Seamless chenille rugs come with hand and figured borders, also plain and figured centers, and are made seamless up to twenty feet in width. These are not only appreciated for their color merit, but also for their durability.

Gray and black rugs are continually asked for owing to the fancy for gray in interior decoration. Black rugs and black and white rugs help complete many a simple color scheme.

The domestic Scotch rugs cost less than the imported and there is not such a perceptible difference. These are reversible and may be had in plain color with pattern border in lighter shades or vice versa. The greens and browns come in a splendid range of patterns.

Unsurpassed for its wearing quality is the body Brussels rug. Small designs are favorites, and one body Brussels rug will outlive a dozen of its cheaper neighbors.

The artistic trend of American designing is exemplified by the new hand-woven rug of prairie grass and other fibre rugs. The prairie grass rug, stitched in herring-bone design, is a practical investment for those who wish to combine strength with appearance.

A black rug centered and fringed with coral red gave a note of distinction to a room which repeated the red note in a red-lacquered oval mirror, a red-lacquered cabinet with an ebony vase on top filled with red flowers and red and black hangings.

A score of years ago the rug carpet industry was principally carried on by the housewives who sewed old rugs into long strips and then sent them to the local factories. Nowadays the rug carpets are made in imitation of old Colonial ones of new rugs and constitute an important factor in rugs.

Those made of chintz are especially favored with Colonial furniture. Matings covered with stencil designs imitate wonderfully well the carpet patterns. Linoleum is no longer banished to the rear of the house, but we even see it used in living rooms in imitation of tile flooring.

Instead of small rugs for bedroom use, the arrangement is better liked when a large center rug is used in addition to a long rug placed under both legs with the ends extending.

SILVERTON HOP CROP.

The hop crop around Silverton is anything but encouraging either as to yield or price. Many yards before being picked gave promise of at least a fair crop but when gathered did not nearly come up to the standard. We will cite a few yields to give some idea of the way the harvest is turning out. G. G. Evans realized very little from a 20 acre yard. From the Gen. Muzley yard of 18 acres 140 boxes were gathered. J. Jacobson received 400 boxes from 18 acres. Carl Benson's yards will not yield anywhere near their usual run. Albert Bather received about half a crop from an 18 acre field. Now and then a field looms up that is holding its own but they are far in the minority. We have not heard of any sales being made as yet of the 1915 crop.—Appeal.

DO NOT WISH A CHANGE.

The postoffice department at Washington has written to the Gervais postmaster to ascertain how the patrons on the rural routes would feel over a contemplated change of schedule in the time for the carriers to leave the postoffice in the morning to make their deliveries, by having them leave after the 10:43 train arrives instead of leaving at 8 o'clock as they now do. Thus delaying deliveries in most cases until in the afternoon.

The postmaster has been circulating a petition this week over the rural routes to see how many were in favor of the change and everyone who signed wished to have the deliveries as they are now and did not favor any change.—Gervais Star.

The Citmax.

Mr. Jones was operated on for appendicitis. He was placed in a small ward to recover from the anesthetic, his bed being between that of two patients previously operated on. As he awoke from the anesthetic he said: "Thank heaven, that's over!" "Oh, no," said the patient on his right, "when I was operated on the doctor left a sponge and had to go back and get it out."

"Yes, indeed," said the patient on the left, "and when I was operated on the doctor left the scissors and had to go back and get them."

Just then the surgeon put his head in the door and asked: "Has any one here seen my hat?" and Jones fainted.

HUBBARD'S CUT-OFF ROAD.

A communication from W. C. Winslow Thursday morning to the Enterprise regarding the cut-off road said that the court had been unable to act on account of the illness of Commissioner Beckwith, but as soon as he was able the court would make another trip to Hubbard to go over the matter again.—Enterprise.
